About The Artists

Rachael McCully

Australian, born 1982

Rachael McCully is an abstract painter from Melbourne whose works are characterised by the use of bold shapes, balanced compositions and often muted colour palettes. Completing a Bachelor of Contemporary Arts in 2005, Rachael trialled different creative mediums over the years before returning to the brush, but one element that has always been central to her work is her quest for creating harmonious compositions.

Jordy Kerwick

Australian, born 1982

Jordy Kerwick is a self taught artist based in Melbourne. Whilst Kerwick's art practice is still relatively young, it is fast acquiring the attention of a global audience with representation in New York, Paris and London. Kerwick has a uniquely raw and confident approach, combining a range of materials to create detailed and textured surfaces.
