MY NAME IS - New Paintings by Warren Lewis

Rap lyrics and celebrity Twitter accounts.
Toilet graffiti and expensive watches.
Fame, identity, wealth and popularity.

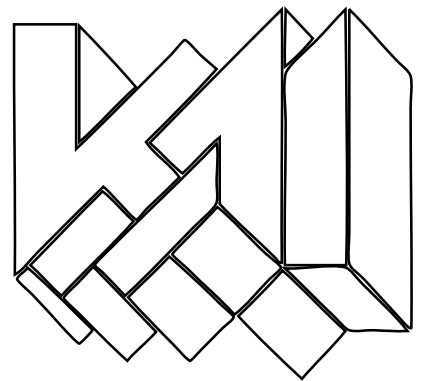

This is the latest show by Warren Lewis entitled 'MY NAME IS'.

In his new series, Lewis directly samples content from an array of seemingly unrelated sources and forces it to share a canvas. As well as representing the high life, Lewis also manages to include a variety of contrasting elements: gangs, gambling, illegal downloads, rap lyrics, porn, religion and popular brands are but a few of the recurring themes. He has even taken it a step further this time by including his website URL's, friends email addresses and links to his favourite sites, in the paintings.

MY NAME IS opens 8th October 2011 at Andenken Gallery, Amsterdam. 18:30 - 22:00
